

We had a brilliant World Book Day yesterday. The children's wooden spoon characters are absolutely fantastic - the amount of creativity and imagination that has gone into making them just shines out. Parents and children have obviously had a wonderful time together and come up with a huge range of book characters. Thank you so much. Children shared stories with children from other classes and enjoyed listening to stories read to them by different members of staff. The children also enjoyed trying to identify which members of staff were 'the masked readers'. Y5 met with a book illustrator and asked lots of excellent questions about the process – I think we may have a few budding illustrators in the making! What a great day! Everyone has brought home a £1 paper book token. They also have an information sheet with a code which can also be used as a book token - in addition to the paper token. Enjoy choosing your new books.

Comic Relief is coming up on Friday 15th March. We are asking the children to come dressed in any way they choose. E.g. they can dress up to be funny, all in red - or their favourite colour, in comic relief t-shirts or the clothes they feel most comfortable in. Anything goes. All we are asking is that the children bring a donation of between £1 - £2 and we will put this all together and send it off to Comic Relief from the whole school.

Spring Parents' meetings will be taking place over the next two weeks. We are looking forward to meeting with you and sharing your child's progress. We will also be giving you the opportunity to come into school to look at your children's work on Thursday 18th April. This will be an open session for you to come into the classroom with your child at any time between 3.30 – 4.30pm. We will send out further details nearer the time.

Can you help please? We do have some Lego in school but are looking to expand our collection. We would like to set up a Lego club, but will need lots more bricks to be able to do this. If you, or anyone you know, have any unused Lego that your children no longer play with, or is taking up valuable storage space in your loft, we can give it a new home and put it to very good use. Thank you.

There are two online talks being offered to parents. The first on Monday 18th March, is about communication and autism and the second, on Tuesday 19th March, is about ACT, which is a different approach to supporting Anxiety, Anger, OCD & Neurodiversity. Please see the attached information for further details.

There are lots of activities taking place locally over the Easter holidays. Please see attached for details.
